1. Introduction:

Columbus Marine A/S offers different types of dataintegration. This document describes the different type of data and files, that is currently offered by Columbus Marine A/S.

The basic underlying concept, is that Columbus Marine A/S offers files, containing data for the customer to use.

2. Dataaccess:

Columbus Marine A/S offers the access to a FTP-server, containing the data offered to the customer. It is the customers responsibility to consume data for use.

Access to FTP-server is managed by Columbus Marine A/S.

At present, Columbus Marine A/S offers product-data in the formats XML. (JSON is upcoming)

Productimages is offered to the customer, by download from Columbus Marine A/S's FTP-server.

The updated file will be available every day, at 03:00 hours.

2.1 Filelocation

When logged in at Columbus Marine A/S FTP-server, two folders will be exposed.

"V30" : This folder contains ColumbusStock.zip, and ColumbusStock.xml. Please download ColumbusStock.zip for faster transfer.

"productimages" : This folder contains all productimages in various sizes. The namingconvention is ###x###.zip, where ### represents the resolution of images. Each image (JPG) in this file, is named by Columbus Marine A/S's ItemID.

3. Fileinformation (XML-Files):

3.1 XML-Files

Columbus Marine A/S offers product-information in this format, for easy import at customers product-management-system.

Columbus Marine A/S, offers two different files, ColumbusStock.xml and ColumbusCommonStock.xml.

ColumbusStock.xml contains data of all product.

ColumbusCommonStock.xml contains data, only of products, with a minimum stockamount.

3.1.1 XML-fileformat

The format of the file delivered by Columbus Marine A/S, is in standard textbased XML-format. This means, that every field is represented by a starttag, a datavalue and an endtag: i.e.:

<ItemID>01234</ItemID>

3.1.2 XML-header

The type of the header in ColumbusStock.xml will always be:

<?xml version="1.0" encoding="utf-8"?>

This will always be the first line in the XML-file from Columbus Marine A/S.

3.1.3 XML Special characters:

By design, some characters are considered special in XML. Therefore, some characters are replaced in the XML-file. Please find these character-conversions in the table below:
